

WILSON AND ALLIED LEADERS
SETTLE UKRAINIAN QUESTION

Paris, May 22.—President Wilson and the allied leaders reached a decision on the perplexing Ukrainian problem at a conference yesterday and will issue a statement within a short time it was learned today.

Whether this decision disposes finally, so far as the peace conference is concerned, of the rival claims of the Poles and Ukrainians, is not yet known. It was reported in some circles that the Big Four would await the arrival of Premier Paderewski in Paris before making a final and complete statement.

Reports reaching Paris show that the Poles, despite the recommendations of the peace conference and despite the opposition of Premier Paderewski, continue to make war on the Ukrainians. The supreme inter-allied economic commission has raised the question as to whether they should continue to give aid to Poland when she has ignored the mandate of the allies and is continuing to fight her neighbors.

A million Ukrainians in America are awaiting the outcome of the controversy. Congressman James A. Hammill of Jersey City, is understood to be preparing an appeal to President Wilson. The main Ukrainian delegation threatens to leave Paris unless the conference takes drastic action to restrain the Poles.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED
RENDERED HOMELESS
AT MOBILE BY FIRE

Mobile, Ala., May 22.—While relief organizations are being hurriedly organized today to take care of the 1500 or more persons made homeless yesterday by a fire which destroyed ten blocks in this city's residential district, firemen, police and soldiers are searching the smoldering ruins in the belief that some of the residents might have perished.

The fire which started in a rubbish pile back of a store caused damage estimated today at nearly $1,000,000. More than 200 residences were completely destroyed.

The region swept by the flames lies near the river front and several large shipbuilding plants and docks were threatened with destruction.

REFERENDUM MAY BE HAD ON DRY MEASURES

Columbus, Ohio, May 22.—Unless emergency clauses are attached to prohibition measures which will come before the state legislature Monday which will make them effective at once, the Crabbie prohibition bill which has been signed by Gov. Cox and the pending regulatory measures will be submitted to a referendum this fall. This is according to a statement made by L. H. Gibson, Cincinnati, head of the Home Rule Association.

In his statement Gibson says the association favors the strict enforcement of the law and that it "urges all distributors of intoxicating liquor to obey all laws of the state strictly."

Gibson further says that all existing laws regulating the manufacture and sale of intoxicants will be in effect after May 23 and that statements of anti-saloon leaders to the contrary "absurd."

THREE PERSONS IN JURED WHEN S. & X.
CARS COLLIDE NEAR YELLOW SPRINGS

Three persons were injured, and two Dayton, Springfield and Xenia traction cars badly smashed when a passenger car and freight car came together on a siding about three miles south of Yellow Springs at 6:40 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The injured are: Russell Day, of Old Town, motorman on the south bound passenger car, who received a fractured left ankle, strained back, and was bruised and cut about the body; Mrs. A. G. McLennan of Yellow Springs, a passenger on the car; and a dislocated shoulder and minor bruises, and her husband, Rev. A. G. McLennan, who was cut and bruised. William Fisher, of Xenia, passenger on the car who was in the smoking compartment, saved himself by jumping and Conductor Frank Bechtel, of the passenger car, was on the rear end of the car and was unhurt. The crew of the freight car was unhurt.

At present the blame for the accident has not been placed. The passenger car was the regular 7 o'clock car into this city and has the right of way, travelling at a rapid rate. The freight car, in charge of Conductor Shaw of Yellow Springs and Motorman Jacob Bowser of Springfield, had left Xenia at 6 o'clock and had backed onto the switch at this point to permit the passenger car to pass. Whether the switch had been negligently left open or whether the passenger car split the switch and jumped to rails has not yet been determined.

Seeing the impending crash, Motorman Day jumped from the vestibule of the passenger car just in time. William Fisher who saw a red light at the switch ran through the car and jumped from the rear platform. A second later and the two cars came together with a terrific crash that sent a cloud of dust 100 feet high. The passenger car left its front trucks on the track and slid over a low spot between the main line and the switch settling down so it almost was lying on its side. The pilot and the vestibule of the car was smashed into kindling wood. The entire front end of the freight car was demolished, the vestibule and the front end of the freight compartment being knocked off. Motorman Bowser had just walked from the front end of the car. Had he been standing at his position he would have been killed instantly.

Medical attention and assistance was on the scene in a comparatively short time. Edward Lang, Clarence Jeffries, Russel Smith and Harry Hagler, of the Western-Southern Life Insurance Company, were on their way to Yellow Springs in the Hagler machine on a business trip. At the open space beyond the residence of C. E. Bone they saw the accident. They said that dust arose 100 feet in the air when the cars crashed.

Foreseeing the need of medical attention, Mr. Hagler let his companions out, who cut across the fields and were first to arrive on the scene while he drove on to Yellow Springs and secured Dr. L. L. Taylor, whose daughter, Mrs. McLennan was one of the injured. They returned, driving the machine through a woods and across fields to the scene. William Fisher, who escaped injury on the car ran to Goes Station and called Dr. A. C. Messenger of this city, who immediately responded, and took charge of Motorman Day, removing him to his home in Old Town. Dr. Taylor removed his daughter and son-in-law, to their home in Yellow Springs, after giving them first aid on the scene.

It was fortunate that the car was not more heavily loaded with passengers. Had it been going the other way it is likely that a number of people going to the dance at Bryan Park would have been in the accident.

Section men were called to the scene at once and immediately began to raise the passenger car and right it on the track. The main line was not interfered with and passenger service was continued with little delay.

The freight car was not knocked off the track. A crated bath tub and other contents were caught in the head-on collision of the cars.

ROUGH WEATHER
DELAYS FLIGHT
OF NC-4 SEAPLANE

Washington, May 22.—An extremely rough sea made it impossible for Commander Reade in the NC-4, to today off from Ponta Del Gada early today on the fourth leg of his trans-Atlantic flight. A dispatch to the navy department received from Admiral Jackson shortly after 7 o'clock, conveyed this information, and while it said nothing about the likelihood of the flight being continued later today in the event that the seas became calmer it was assumed in navy department circles that this would be done. Engine trouble that developed in the NC-4 is reported to have been remedied and the plane to be ready for the jump to Lisbon as soon as the weather conditions permit.

At 5 o'clock Washington time there was a 30 mile southwesterly wind at Ponta Del Gada, according to another dispatch from Admiral Jackson and the sea still rough, although visibility was good.

"The disturbances will continue eastward or northeastward," the dispatch concluded, "and may remove influence in this district tonight."

DETECTIVES FIRE
AT FLEEING THIEF

Chicago, May 22.—Lives of several pedestrians were endangered early today when several detectives pursuing James Belcino, suspected of implication in a $20,000 bank robbery, fired 20 or more shots at the fleeing man as he ran from the district attorney's office into North Clark street and made good his escape.

Belcino, who had been arrested in a round up by the police following several bank robberies during the past week, was being detained in the district attorney's office when he eluded his guard and dashed into the street.

The entire front end of the freight car was demolished, the vestibule and the front end of the freight compartment being knocked off. Motorman Bowser had just walked from the front end of the car. Had he been standing at his position he would have been killed instantly.

Medical attention and assistance was on the scene in a comparatively short time. GERMAN PRISONERS ENGAGED IN THE WORK OF RETURNING LOOT.

German return stolen farm implements.

A huge pile of Belgian farming implements seized by the Germans as loot being sorted for return to the rightful owners by German prisoners under British guard. Huge stores of stolen materials were found by the British packed and ready for shipment to Germany.

CONGRESS IS SWAMPED WITH BILLS TO AID THE WORLD WAR SOLDIERS

Washington, May 22.—Congress already is swamped with bills designed to aid soldiers.

Although the 66th congress has completed but three legislative days there have been nearly 100 bills and resolutions presented in both houses which are aimed to benefit those who were in the military or naval service during the war with Germany.

Increased bonuses for service men and revocation of all court martial sentences and fines, are the outstanding provisions made for the benefit of soldiers and sailors in most of the bills already presented to congress.

Increased bonus bills appeared to be doomed to failure at the present time, however. There was a general feeling among members of congress that the great majority of men who served do not want any gift from the government and they base this conclusion on the action of the convention of the American Legion recently held in St. Louis, which voted down a proposal to seek increased bonus money.

The bills which provide for additional bonuses run from a $200 bonus to a bonus of $500. Debts of the nation already are too high to allow increased bonuses, many members of congress declare although they are careful not to be quoted in such statements. Those who are urging the enlarged bonuses argue that congress has provided for the farmer by fixing a profitable price for wheat and that it is as fair that discharged soldiers and sailors should be given financial aid.

Revocation of court martial sentences and fines seems likely of passage by congress. This measure will be tied up with probable revision of the military court laws under the articles of war and it already has the support of many republicans who have been interested in the recent court martial controversy of the war department.

One soldier organization, the Private Soldiers and Sailors Legion, has already submitted its legislative demands to congress. This program includes an increased bonus, employment for soldiers on public works, precedence for soldiers in civil service positions, revocation of court martial findings and repeal of luxury taxes.

The American legion, the largest soldier organization which has yet been formed, has not presented a legislative program. Members of congress have been notified, however, that this organization will have a legislative program which will call for legislation which affects service men to so great a degree as it will call for constructive legislation. Already this organization has gone on record as demanding strict legislation to wipe out bolshevism and it is believed that when its legislative program is finally arranged, it will follow along such lines.

Land grants for soldiers and sailors by congress seem to be assured now, although it is probable that such legislation will be delayed for some time. Amendments of the war risk insurance act, to give greater benefits to those who are concerned by this act are already in congress and likely to be adopted.

Possibilities of pension legislation covering, out despite the provisions of the war risk insurance act were interesting members of congress today.

On every hand it was apparent that members of both the house and the senate will proceed cautiously in any legislation which concerns the soldier vote, until such a time as that vote has taken definite form.

Second—The German delegates have received an extension of time until May 29 for consideration of the treaty and have completed criticisms covering two-thirds of the treaty.

Third—It is considered certain that at least a third of the present German delegates at Versailles will be replaced before Germany signs the treaty.

Fourth—When the present time limit expires one week from today, only 48 hours will be required by the allies and associated powers to consider the final suggestions.

Fifth—The Germans, realizing the danger in Germany of further delay, are certain to accept the treaty, in as much as modifications now under consideration are designed to meet their viewpoint. Without actually resisting at all, the allies are making the terms easier.

The extension granted Germany will in no way affect the negotiations with Austria. The Austrians will receive their peace terms from the allies next Monday and it is expected that they will reply before the end of next week. It is understood that they will not be allowed as much time to deliberate as was granted the Germans. The indications are that both treaties will be signed only a few days apart.

The strikers claim that the government had promised the increase several months ago to be retroactive to Jan. 1, of this year, but that they had not received the increase.

First—The economic experts of France and the United States have recommended changes in the economic demands of the treaty as originally presented, which will make it possible not only for Germany to meet the economic demands but also the demands regarding reparations.

Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German foreign minister and head of the German peace delegation, probably will leave Versailles again to give his own views to the German government. Whether he personally returns to the peace conference is a matter of no consequence. Berlin is ready to replace him should it become necessary. The maneuvers being conducted by the count from Versailles are merely a duplication of maneuvers once carried on at Washington when Count Von Bernstorff was behind the scenes, and the same German propagandists who then characterized Bernstorff as "the greatest diplomat" are now applying the same term to the German foreign secretary.

The situation here today is exactly as follows:

FELL DOWN STAIRS WALKING IN SLEEP

Mrs. J. W. Rowan of 38 Center street, walked in her sleep last night at 11 o'clock and fell headlong down a stairway at her home.

Dr. A. D. DeHaven found that her left wrist was broken, that she had a gash on her head and deep scratches on her shoulder. His wife's fall aroused Mr. Rowan, who jumped out of bed panic stricken, thinking that burglars were in the house.

As she fell, Mrs. Rowan struck a hall rack, breaking a prong from the piece of furniture.

Xenia friends of Miss Ada Bryant of Springfield, who has often visited here as guest of Miss Myrtle Harshman, are interested in announcement of her approaching marriage to George S. Raup, which will take place June 5. Miss Harshman has attended several pre-nuptial parties which have been given in Miss Bryant's honor.

Mrs. Maggie Burns, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Hull, of Cottage Grove avenue, is seriously ill of rheumatism and a complication of troubles, and little hope is felt for her recovery.

Rev. George S. Macaulay, of this city, will give the principal address at the "Veteran Day" services which will be held in the Broadway M. E. church in Middletown next Sunday. All veterans are invited to attend the services.

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH OVER THE TOP

The reports of the workers of Trinity Methodist church have kept pouring in to the hands of the pastor, Rev. H. J. Jewett till that church is now over the top in its Centenary quota of $19,100.00. Before beginning the campaign the Official Board adopted a motion that the church aim to get its quota for the Centenary and a good sum in addition for church improvements, including the cost of the new heating plant. This is the purpose of the committee managing the campaign—"the Centenary quota and as much more as the church needs for its improvement fund." A good number of the members of the church are yet to make their pledges and still others who have contributed to the Centenary have declared their purpose to add a nice sum for the improvement of the church. The people are so inspired by having accomplished their task that a settled policy for a new church will probably be the result within a reasonable time. Trinity church reached its quota by securing a large proportion of its members as contributors, there being no family contributing as much as eight hundred dollars. For many years past this church has been known in the conference as a missionary living congregation, and for the past five years it has been the only church in the Springfield District that has been continuously on the honor-roll for having met all its apportionments to the missionary and regular benevolences of the denomination. Now, all the workers say, "One more pull for a better record and a better church."

The Second District Institute of the West Union Baptist S. S. convention will convene at the Zion Baptist church beginning this Saturday afternoon and holding over Sunday. The program promises very interesting sessions for all interested in S. S. work. The public and especially workers in the S. S. are cordially invited to attend.

The Cleola Concert Co., of Springfield, will appear in a recital at Zion Baptist church tomorrow night. This company is composed of some of the best musical talent in that city.

Last Friday night Zion Baptist church was the scene of a large crowd, who gathered to witness the debate between East Hi and James-town Hi on the question, "Resolved: That the Government Should Own and Operate the Railroads." The affirmative side was upheld by Delos Johnson, May Johnson and Thelma Tibbles of Jamestown. The negative by Lorenzo Harris, James Logan and Clarence Smith, of East Hi, Xenia. It is remarkable indeed the manner in which the debaters handled the subject. It was quite a source of information to the audience as well as an entertainment. The East Hi boys won the decisions of two of the three judges, thereby victorious. Yet they will ever remember having been in the race for Delos Johnson of Jamestown agreeably surprised his audience with his pleasing debating style and natural eloquence. Both teams deserve great credit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Powers have purchased the Philip Allen property on East Main street from Charles Allen, administrator. The consideration was one thousand dollars. The will group it as a home.

Prof. J. W. Stewart is much better and shows signs of decided improvement. His wife and children feeling more encouraged concerning him.

Mr. John A. Evans is improving nicely and is now able to be up some, to the delight of his family, other relatives and many friends.

STATE CONVENTION OF LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE TO BE HELD

There is no subject before the American people today that is of greater importance than the proposed League of Nations. The future history of the world will be very largely determined by the action taken by the senate of the United States upon the plan of the league as it is embodied in the Paris treaty. And what the action of the senate will be will depend a good deal upon the public opinion of the country. It was to arouse public interest and to educate public sentiment in behalf of a League of Nations that the League to Enforce Peace was organized. And now that a league plan has taken definite shape it is the purpose of the League to Enforce Peace to so thoroughly arouse the public opinion of the country in favor of the adoption of the plan as proposed by the Paris Council, that the Senate will not dare, to ignore the mandate of the people as expressed in an aroused and emphatic public opinion.

To give the people a full understanding of the plan and an appreciation of its merits there is to be held throughout the country fifteen great conventions under the auspices of the state branches of the League to Enforce Peace. Ohio is one of the states that is fortunate in having one of these Conventions.

This convention will be held in the Memorial hall at Columbus, Tuesday, May 27. There will be morning and evening sessions and the public is cordially invited. Some of the greatest speakers of the country will address the meetings. Among them will be Hon. Wm. Howard Taft, President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Rabbi Stephen H. Wise, Capt. Thomas C. Chamberlain, president W. O. Thompson. It will be a great occasion, with great speakers with great messages. No one can afford to miss this meeting. It will educate, enlighten and give enthusiasm for a great cause.

That it shall be made as effective as possible it is essential that every county in the state send delegates. The undersigned has been authorized by the State League to secure a Greene county delegation. May we not have a large delegation? The writer therefore requests that all who can go send him their names as soon as possible that arrangements for the delegates may be made.

Remember the time—next Tuesday, afternoon and evening.

SERIOUS BLAZE IS NARROWLY AVERTED

A serious blaze was averted at the L. C. R. Storage battery station in the Max Simon building on East Main street early Thursday morning, when Merchant Policeman Charles Phillips discovered flames in the back of the room.

(The fire department extinguished the blaze, before it had gained disastrous dimensions. A burner left lighted on a bench had ignited some rubbish. Tools and work left on the bench were burned. The fire was discovered at 4:25 o'clock.

CHANGES MIND AGAIN

Less than four weeks after her first suit for divorce was dismissed at her request, Ruth Jackson has brought a second action for divorce from Harry Jackson. She reiterates her former charge of cruelty, and says that the defendant assaulted her May 1. They were married April 28, 1913, and have two children.

Yep, He Would Be a Sight to See. "In all my travels hither and yon and return," remarked the facetious feller, "I never ran across a man who was so color blind he couldn't distinguish a roll of greenbacks."

EAST END NEWS

Mid-Air Proposal.

The "most remarkable proposal" we know of was made at St. Louis by Charles Kruger, a trapeze performer, one of whose most sensational performances was to catch with his hands a lady who dived through the air from a great height in a desperate "leap for life." One night as he caught her in her downward flight and had her swinging in the air, he proposed to her; and before the cheers had died away he had secured her consent to be his wife.

INTERESTING EXTRACT FROM LETTER WRITTEN BY MISS JULIA BROWN

On account of the letters from her which we have published in the past, many of our readers feel an interest in Miss Julia Brown, (a relative of the Chew and McCormick families of Xenia), who has been living in London for several years. She has just returned to this country, probably to remain, with loving appreciation of it. As always, she writes interestingly, and we take the liberty of giving our readers part of a private letter to a Xenia relative, written on board the boat she came home on, the "Noordam," of the Holland-America line. She says:

"I left London May 4th and went down to Plymouth where I remained until the next afternoon and sailed about five o'clock. Much to my surprise, we went to France and reached Brest about 11 a. m., on the 6th. Here we lay for 30 hours, taking on board 1,800 troops, 32nd Division, mostly infantry, Michigan and Wisconsin men. Also we coaled, and the coal was put on board by our U. S. colored troops. After they had finished and were waiting for the navy tug to take them back to shore, they sang for us. It sounded good to me to hear those melodious voices again. The officers and other passengers on the "Noordam" threw down perfect showers of coins, mostly silver and we watched the consequent scramble. Every little thing amuses one on board ship and we spent several hours watching the troops come on, and their provisions being swung over from a barge. With the exception of three days and four nights of head winds and rough seas, we have had delightful weather, and I have made some very pleasant acquaintances. One, a little English lady, traveling alone to join her husband in New York, is my almost inseparable companion, and we have "annexed" an American Aviation lieutenant and his charming English bride. So the four of us are much together. Our deck swarms with officers, lieutenants, captains, majors, colonels, lieutenant-colonels and even two brigadier-generals, and we have made some pleasant acquaintances. We have passed through schools of porpoises, and seen whales several times. None of them pay us the compliment—a doubtful one—of being in the least afraid of us, but swim along quite close to the vessel. One day we picked up a wireless S. O. S. and turned back to search for a small sailing vessel in distress. We cruised about for hours, but without finding her. We saw another vessel doing the same and as every ship within a certain radius must go to the assistance of a distressed crew, we felt some one must have picked them up. We hope so. This is a delightful boat, most scrupulously clean (being Dutch), with very efficient service, and an excellent table. It is more comfortable than any other I have ever been on, except the dear "Minnewaska," which, with five others of the same line, now lies at the bottom of the sea. Soon I shall be in my dear home land, and its a happy woman I shall be."

The World Behind the Scenes.

I see men who begin with ideas of universal reform and who, before their boards are given, propound their long plans for the regeneration of mankind give up their schemes after a few years of bootless talking and vain attempts to lead their fellows, and, after they have found that men will no longer hear them as in deed they were never in the least worthy to be heard, sink quietly into the rank and file, acknowledging their aims impracticable, or thankful they were never put into practice. The fleeciest reformers grow calm and are faithful to put up with things as they are. They submit to circumstances that are sterner than they and are compelled finally to submit and to wait and to compromise.—Thackeray.

GOITRE REMOVED

Urbana, Ohio, Man Has Wonderful Experience With External Remedy.

Mr. H. M. Dudley, 424 South Kenton street, Urbana, Ohio, says in his own home paper, The Urbana Citizen: "Sorbol-Quadruple removed a large goitre from me six months ago. It was so large that I could not wear a collar. It hurt me so badly I could hardly sleep. It would choke and smother me. Two bottles of Sorbol-Quadruple completely removed it. I can now breathe freely and sleep well. I am willing to tell any one my experience, even by letter."

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles, containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. Requires ten minutes daily. Get further information at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and drugstores everywhere, or write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

BRINGS SECOND SUIT FOR DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Ida Schneider, wife of William A. Schneider, village marshall of Osborn, dismissed her suit for divorce May 1. Yesterday afternoon she filed a second suit, making the same allegations of cruelty as contained in her first petition, and alleging that her husband is intimate with a certain married woman in Osborn.

Mrs. Schneider says in her petition that after she yielded to her husband's pleadings, restored him to her affections, and dismissed the divorce suit, he proceeded to beat her again and chased her out of the house in her bare feet and scantily clothed.

The night of May 10, Mrs. Schneider says, she and other witnesses saw her husband enter the home of a married woman in Osborn at midnight and that he remained there for an hour. Confronted with this fact, she avers he admitted his relationship with the other woman and also said that he had bought silk stockings for her.

Mrs. Schneider asks to be awarded temporary and permanent alimony and restoration to her maiden name Levan.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION

HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill has been appointed agent for Allenhu in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

PILE SUFFERERS! CLEVER OHIO CHEMIST SAYS THIS GREAT PRESCRIPTION TAKEN INTERNALLY HAS NEVER FAILED

Even Chronic Cases of 20 to 30 Years Standing, With Profuse Bleeding, Have Been Completely Cured in From Three to Ten Days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to druggists as Miro Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and at the best only give temporary relief. This is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise acts on the source of the trouble.

This prescription, although taken internally, is not digested in the stomach, but is rapidly passed on unchanged to the intestines in a short time, reaching the exact place whereby its soothing, healing action, it first allays all inflammation and then direct contact with all ulcers and piles, causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days at most, even in cases with profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments and operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The author of this amazing discovery desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy decisively conquers even in the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal ing, healing action, it first allays all prescription, Sayre & Hemphill.

A PARTISAN RECOMMENDATION.

The shadow of the Presidential election of 1920 is already hanging heavily over the country. This time it seems more portentous than usual, as an aftermath of the war, just as it did after the Civil War. Being our own rulers we have usually conducted our elections without friction, and in a common sense way, but the excitement of war gets in the blood, and among other things party spirit is stirred up. This is unfortunate, because we have been so liberal in extending the benefits of our free land that millions of alien citizens here are easily dominated in their franchise privilege by demagogues. This is not so important or regrettable in other elections as in that of the President.

And wherever the spirit of the politician is stronger than the inspiration of real statesmanship in the party leader we find him falling down. Just now we have a regrettable instance of this in Mr. Wilson. Besides his shameful appeal of last fall for democratic success, he has now gone so far as to covertly in his message to Congress put in a good word for his party by appealing to the liquor interest in his recommendation that the war-measure ban on wine and beer be removed.

It takes only half an eye to see that this was stimulated solely by what effect it would have for his party on the Presidential election of 1920. Considering his high position, and too his being the son of a minister, this is the most shameful and unbecoming and unnecessary act we have ever known of a President.

In this day of widespread Temperance reform, we are sure that very few of Mr. Wilson's party papers will endorse his recommendation, but the Enquirer in whiskey-and-beer-sodden Cincinnati had this to say on Wednesday:

"In his unquestioned endorsement of the doctrine of the use of wines and beer the President, in all probability, is pointing the way to the golden mean in the great controversy of prohibition. If his recommendation is approved by Congress there will be afforded opportunity for the actual demonstration of the claims of those who insist that, with the banishment of distilled spirits virtually all the evils resulting from the use of alcohol as a beverage will disappear. Should these contentions show positive merit, it is quite certain that the country will demand the amendment of the National Constitution and the legalization of the sale of these articles."

So there you have it. "His unquestioned endorsement of the use of wine and beer." Just as we might the Enquirer have spoken of Mr. Wilson's unquestioned endorsement of "the wild blazing grogshop, where the red waves of wretchedness swell, the horrible lighthouse of hell, for everybody knows that the chief output of the saloons is beer. And everybody knows further that beer has the sure effect of 'making drunk,' the evidence being daily illustrated in our police court."

And the Enquirer wants a constitutional amendment for grogshops. But, thank God, there is no probability of any such backward step being taken in this country. John Barleycorn's death-knell has been sounded, and the obituary is being prepared all over the land.

Making Pictures.

It is easy to make mistakes in the hanging of pictures. Observing the following as a guide, you will make fewer mistakes in this respect. First, a plain paper for the room is almost imperative. This will give you an opportunity to use all the pictures to matter what they are. Soft grays and terra cotta tones are best for background. Avoid figured and highly-colored papers as these prevent the picture from standing out. Be careful not to tilt the pictures too much. Hang them almost flat.

Giving and Doing.

It is the giving up of life that saves it. When we stop calling it our own, seeking to hoard it and enrich it for ourselves, and begin bestowing it in loving interest and service upon others, we find that it has suddenly become richer and stronger than ever before.

THE VINDICATION OF SENATOR KNOX.

The dispatches which describe the gratification felt in Allied circles over the Chinese consortium, by which the British, French, Japanese and American banking groups agree to help China financially, must be pleasant reading to Senator Knox. As secretary of state in the Taft cabinet, he started in to develop a common-sense relationship between American banking interests and China, and offered to use the good offices of diplomacy to protect the interests of the bankers without, however, involving our government in any financial responsibility. But Bryan, who came into office with President Wilson, had none of this frank and honest and open relationship of the Department of State and the proposed financing of China through the group of foreign and American bankers. Consequently, with that perverse officiousness that was so typically Bryanesque, he upset all of Mr. Knox's plans, threw suspicion on the perfectly honorable arrangement and, in an exhibition of what was virtually puerile spite, used the words "dollar diplomacy" in a deprecatory and derogatory sense, as if the bankers and the Taft administration and Senator Knox and the officials of other nations were a lot of cheap bunco-stealers.

Of course, the glorifiers of the Wilson administration gulped down the phrase with avidity, the President accepted the viewpoint of his secretary of state, and it has taken the critical situation developed by the great war to prove how sensible and how safe and reasonable were the Knox propositions and how soundly American. For now the new consortium is a departure from the method laid down by Secretary Knox, since we have agreed to guarantee the Chinese loans in association with our other allies, a thing which, if Secretary Knox had proposed it in President Taft's time, would have convinced the Democrats that he was absolutely out of his mind. Times change, however, and it is very apparent that Democrats change with them and are not above taking a Republican idea and also not above giving it an imperialistic twist. Public Ledger.

PREDICTS THAT THERE WILL BE NO 17 YEAR LOCUSTS

There will be no 17-year locusts this spring if the prediction of J. W. Marshall of Cedarville, well-known war-melon grower, holds true.

Mr. Marshall bases his claim on the history of the locusts on their last visit here. At the locusts came early in May. On May 27 there was a heavy frost and most of the insects were killed. The few surviving were only apparent about a week afterwards, when they disappeared.

Mr. Marshall alleges that the locusts did not lay their eggs at that time. They deposit these eggs on the limbs of trees, and then bore a hole into the limb which eventually causes it to die and drop off, the eggs being hatched on the ground. Because of the heavy frost and the fact that only a few locusts survived, it is alleged that the locusts did not lay their eggs and that therefore there will be no recurrence of the pests this year.

Volcano Emits Sea of Lava.

The following is reported by an observer in Hawaii: Tremendous charges are in progress at Kilauea, and there is no indication whatever of any cessation of the monumental rising of the entire vast lava column. Over the southwest brink a wide stream of glowing lava is sluggishly flowing in the direction of the Kahu desert, not with the spectacular cascading of torrents of the southwestern flows, but with a steady, stealthy gliding, which gains ground slowly at its face, but which piles up into tremendous mounds from its source forward.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

AN UNEXPECTED VISITOR.

CHAPTER XCIV.

I had played but a short time before the bell rang, and Mr. Frederick's card was brought to me. I was calmer. Music always soothed me, so I asked aunt to receive him, telling her I would be down in a moment. I could not forget that this man, kindly, clever, if a bit uncouth at times, cared for me. Woman-like I wished to appear to advantage to him even while I thought of him only as my very good friend. I smoothed my hair, just touched my pale cheeks with rouge and powder, then joined him and aunt.

"I heard you playing; do not let me interrupt you," he said after greeting me warmly. "I am very fond of music, although I know nothing about it—I simply know when I like it."

"You probably are a better judge than most people who claim to know," I said lightly. "I was playing in the dark. Mr. Forbes is out, and so aunt and I were amusing ourselves."

"I had hoped to find him at home," I sensed an undertone of disappointment in his voice, and felt anxious at once. What was it he had to say to Neil? I so wished he would tell me. Perhaps he would if I tactfully led up to it.

"Aunt has been trying to impress Neil with his duty to himself. That he really does wrong to attend to business in the evening. She hasn't yet been successful, however, as his absence shows."

"It is too bad that we men have that habit," he turned to aunt. "But sometimes it seems necessary. There is so much competition now-a-days, and so often men come from a distance and have to make the most of their time. That is certainly so in New York with big concerns, or with men of large interests. I guess it does make it sort of lonesome for the women folks," he added in his kindly way, "but most of them are willing to put up with it, if it means more money."

"All women are not mercenary, Mr. Frederick," Aunt returned in her more severe manner.

"No, indeed! many of them not enough so. But it costs a lot of money to live in New York—to live well. It keeps men hustling pretty lively. I often think how lucky I am not to have to live here. It's a great town, all right—the greatest in the world. Fine to come to and let off steam. But after a few days of it I am ready for my little western town, where a man can wear a soft shirt, and let his manners correspond with his shirt. Here every one seems to be starched up, all glossy and shiny on the outside anyway. A bit uncomfortable for some of us who are used to being well—just sort of natural human beings without the frills."

"But society calls for form and for manners. I should think those Western mining towns would be well, rather demoralizing," aunt replied. I could see she did not understand at all Mr. Frederick's simile, or his point of view. She was most conventional in all her ideas and actions.

"Not at all dear madame! sometimes I think they bring out the very best there is in a man—a real man. The man who becomes demoralized in a mining town would become equally so in New York or any other place. Water seeks its level, you know. I am a great believer in the theory that often hard knocks in the beginning of a career bring out the best there is in a man, easy places of the world make men soft."

I loved to hear him talk, to watch the play of expression on his strong face. But just then I was more interested in knowing what brought him than in hearing him discuss theories with aunt. So I interrupted: "Have you seen Mr. Scott lately?"

I would find out if he had changed his mind and been with Neil the night before.

"No, not for a few days. Scott is a good sort, common, perhaps, and a bit vulgar sometimes," with a deprecating glance at aunt, "but honest all the way through."

"Yes, I have heard you say so. I think him a good influence for Neil," I replied a bit kindly.

"I don't know about the GOOD influence in some ways. But he is straight as a string in business. A bad man to make an enemy. That was one reason I hoped to see Mr. Forbes tonight."

"There he comes now. He expected to be late—I am so glad. Neil, Mr. Frederick is calling." I rose to meet my husband.

"Just the man I want to see, Frederick! Excuse us please, we will go into the library." Neil had ignored me, addressing his remarks to aunt. I so wished they had remained in the music room, I wanted to hear what they said. As I bade aunt good night a few moments later I wondered what had happened—had Neil offended Mr. Scott, and would he be his enemy?

Tomorrow—Frederick Tells Neil That Scott Is Dangerous.

Mastering Worry.

The person who knows no worry is a fortunate individual (if such a human being possibly exists), but worry as well as its first cousins, nerves, can be mastered if we sensibly take each day as it comes, smiling at its problems, and forgetting all about that "doubtful future" which some folks declare is full of woes.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. adv

No other remedy will so surely and quickly correct stomach ailments, regulate the liver and improve the general health as a dose of

GREENE CO. SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION WILL MEET MAY 27

The Greene County Sunday school association, will hold its annual convention, Tuesday, May 27, in the Presbyterian church at Yellow Springs.

Chief speakers will be Marion Lawrence of Chicago, secretary of the International Sunday School Association, and A. T. Arnold of Columbus, secretary of the state association. Unusual interest is attached to the appearance of Mr. Lawrence, as he spent his boyhood at Yellow Springs, and has many personal friends in the village and in this city.

The convention will open at 9:30 Tuesday morning, and following devotions and the county secretary's report, an address, "Our Sunday School Association and the Denominations," will be given by State Secretary Arnold.

The afternoon session, opening at 1:15, will include the reports of the treasurer, departmental superintendents, and work of the divisions. Mrs. Lila Reed Jones of Yellow Springs, will talk on the Children's Department, Mrs. H. G. Rice of Osborn, on Young People's Work, Mrs. George H. Geyer, of Xenia, on Adult Work.

The afternoon program will close with an address by International Secretary Lawrence.

A song service will open the night session at 7:30. The nominating committee will report and new county officers will be installed. Secretary Arnold will give an address on the subject, "Our Community Program of Religious Education," and Mr. Lawrence is on the program for the closing address.

Meals will be served by the women of the convention church to the delegates, and others attending the meeting.

OLD MOTHER NATURE COMES FORTH WITH ANOTHER NEW FREAK

And now comes Mother Nature with a new freak.

Because his potatoes were not coming up, Jacob Lees, of the Fair-ground pike, investigated to find that unthinkingly he was introducing topless potatoes to the world.

Instead of the green top developing above ground from the first shoot of the seed potato, small potatoes themselves were forming on the sprout and there were absolutely no leaves or foliage above ground. Mr. Lees showed the freak to County Agent Ford S. Prince, who is unable to give a definite explanation of the cause of it, having never seen anything like it. There are 15 or 20 hills of the potatoes which are forming in this manner.

sans tops but producing the spuds just the same.

"I will introduce this form of potato to fool the bugs," said Mr. Lees.

Horse Tracking.

"Mookingah's" account of a half-caste abo's tracking is good, but not extraordinary for a native, says the Sydney Bulletin. A half-caste, called Albert, whom I knew in 1885 with Mill's tank-sinking party between Warrego and Paroo rivers (N. S. W.), was the best I have come across. He was about 20 then, and knew the hoof-prints of every horse in the party. One morning Albert was late in bringing in the bags, and on Mills growling at him, he replied: "I been tracking Blossom." Mills said: "Rot, Blossom has been gone twelve months." (She had been stolen.) Albert replied: "She been come back along a foal: gone along a Paroo." This proved correct, and Albert got her and foal later on. He had remembered her track all that time.

Insects Do Much Good.

Although insects damage the crops, stored products and domestic animals in the United States to the enormous amount of $1,200,000,000 every year, nevertheless this damage is almost compensated by the good they do. Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of Entomology, at the National Museum told of the value of the useful insects as cross-fertilizers of plants, as affecting the soil, in producing honey, silk, etc.

Anglo-Saxons.

The Angles, or Engles, were a people once located in a part of the world now known as Schleswig-Holstein and who accompanied or immediately followed the Saxons into England. The Angles are believed to have been the more powerful race, for they occupied the larger portion of Britain, and they gave their name to the land, for out of Engle grew the word England and the Saxons made the word Anglo-Saxon.

Daily Thought.

Cookery is become an art, a noble science: cooks are beetlemen.—Burton.

USE CENTURIES-OLD METHODS

Ceylonese Reap and Grind Grain in Much the Same Way as in Biblical Times.

At Kandy, Ceylon, the entire method of planting, reaping and grinding grain is conducted as a religious ceremony. The work of carrying the sheaves is allotted to the women, and it is a picturesque sight to see them bearing away the huge bundles of sheaves on their heads. At eve tide teams of buffalo as innocent of muzzles as though subject to Mosaic law, are brought to the threshing floor and driven over this paddy to the accompaniment of a community chorus. When well trodden by the herd, the buffaloes are driven away to their respective swamp wallows. The straw is now removed by the women from the paddy, and the latter fanned free of rubbish. The grain is next tossed and fanned on winnowing trays, entirely by hand. The method takes some days. When completed, and ready for the "granary" it is stored in large urns called "bissas," which are protected by a thick coating of mortar. The "bissa" looks like a small thatched cottage, but it is really a miniature silo. When needed for breads or curry, the grain is ground by the women on huge flat stones much like the "metate" of the Mexicans, another round stone resembling a rolling pin in shape, being used to crush the grain. It is then cooked in various ways.

EACH HAS INDIVIDUAL COLOR

Cities by No Means Alike in Hues Which Attract the Eye of the Traveler.

"Have you ever noticed how cities sometimes seem to have their own special colors?" asks Julian Street in "American Adventures," the book in which he and Wallace Morgan recorded, in words and pictures, what they think is the most picturesque part of our country—the South.

"Paris is white and green—even more so, I think, than Washington," Mr. Street continues.

"Chicago is gray; so is London usually, though I have seen it buff at the beginning of a heavy fog. New York used to be a brown sandstone city, but is now turning to one of cream-colored brick and tile; Naples is brilliant with pink and blue and green and white and yellow; while as for Baltimore, her old houses and her new are, as Baedeker puts it, of 'cheerful red brick'—not always, of course, but often enough to establish the color of red brick as the city's predominant hue. And with the red-brick house—particularly the older ones—go clean white marble steps, on the bottom one of which, at the side, may usually be found an old-fashioned iron 'scraper,' doubtless left over from the time (not very long ago) when the city pavements had not reached their present excellence."

Care of Umbrellas.

Carelessness in the treatment of umbrellas is a great factor in their rapid deterioration. An umbrella merely damp should be opened and left until dry, while a very wet one should be put to drain first, handle downward, and opened for the final drying.

DID NOT INVENT TELESCOPE

But Galileo Was the First to Perceive Its Possibilities in the Study of Astronomy.

The name of the man who first framed and used a telescope for the observation of the heavenly bodies is Galileo Galilei, though little known in that form. It was this scientist, who died January 8, 1642, who, it may be said, first gave stability and force to the theory which places the sun in the center of the planetary system. In April or May, 1609, Galileo heard at Venice of a little tubular instrument made by Hans Libbershey of Middleburg, which made distant objects appear nearer, and he immediately applied himself to experimentation on the means by which such an instrument could be produced. Procuring a couple of spectacle glasses, each plain on one side, but one convex and the second concave on the other side, and applying his eye to the concave glass, he found that objects were magnified three times, and brought apparently nearer. Soon after having made one which could magnify 330 times, Galileo commenced observations on the surface of the moon, which he discovered to be irregular, like that of the earth, and on Jupiter, which, in 1610, he ascertained to be attended by four stars, as he called them, which afterward proved to be its satellites.

CRUSADERS WON AND LOST

In the End Nothing Was Gained by Attempted Conquest of the Holy Land.

During the four centuries from the Moslem conquest of Palestine until the crusades Christian, Jew and Moslem lived together in peace. Then along came Peter the Hermit and the Crusaders. The second coming of Christ had been forecast for the year 1000. The passing of that year without any catastrophe awakened an era of Christian piety that held the world safe through the year 1033, the anniversary of the crucifixion.

Peter the Hermit prevailed upon Pope Urban II to sanction the first crusade. It proved a successful venture, for Jerusalem was captured July 14, 1099, and Godfrey of Bouillon elected king of Jerusalem.

Saladin became master of Egypt and Syria toward the end of the twelfth century, after defeating the Crusaders at the battle of Hattin in 1187, capturing the most treasured of relics, a piece of the true Cross. This provoked the third crusade, led by Richard Coeur de Lion and commemorated in Scott's novel, "The Talisman." The Crusaders captured Constantinople for the Venetians, but failed of the entire conquest of Palestine.

Disciplined to Matrimony.

Among the non-Burmese tribes that live in Burma women are not thought much of. The Banyak or Banyangs, for instance, will not marry unless they are ordered to do so, and the prospective bridegroom often has to be dragged to the bride's house. It is left, however, to the Was to reach the depths of ungallantry, for with them marriage is a question of sale or exchange. A prepossessing bride is estimated at a few buffaloes, one who is ill-favored may be had in exchange for a pair of fowls or even a dog.

THEATERS

BIJOU

Pretty Billie Burke makes her appearance at the Bijou Theater for the first time in many days Friday when she appears in "The Make-Believe Wife," a Paramount production, by arrangement with Flo. Zeigfield, Jr., which is delightful and catchy of plot and formation.

The scenes are laid in the Adirondacks and when a man and girl are lost, developments follow rapidly with many and amusing complications. Miss Burke is well supported by David Powell, Alfred Hickman, Wray Page, Ida Darling, Isabel O'Madigan, Bigelow Cooper, Howard Johnson and F. Gatenbery Bell.

ORPHIUM

Another Baby Marie Osborne picture will be shown at the Orphium Friday when this infant prodigy appears under Triangle direction in "Child of M'Sieu," one of the most delightful productions she has ever been featured in.

The story is based on the Browning poem "Pippa Passes," and offers a splendid vehicle for this sweet little performer. Her sweet, childish, simplicity captivates all who attend M'Sieu's tavern and she'll captivate you in this picture. She is supported by Philo McCullough, Harrish Ingram, Claire Alexander, Katherine McLaren.

Spanish Silk.

Four hundred years ago the silks of Seville, then the most famous in the world, were exported to all countries, for Spain was the first nation of western Europe to take up silk culture. The climate of Spain is excellent for this industry, and fine silk worms such as were employed when silk cultivation was at its height are available in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, near Granada. This worm has a life of fifty days, during the first thirty of which it grows to many thousands of times its original size.

Pearl Long Valued as Jewel.

TRY THIS TEST on The NEW EDISON

IN the world's greatest art gallery, The Louvre, Millet's "Angelus" is displayed, in a room by itself. This is so you can feel the full force of the painter's genius. It means you can concentrate.

Enjoyment of any work of art depends very much upon the setting, the atmosphere, in a word the "staging." Many minor factors tend to intensify one's pleasure.

Here is the way to get the most out of The New Edison. Sit down fifteen or twenty feet distant: close your eyes: relax: think of the last time you heard a great singer: then have the instrument start playing. The illusion will be utterly convincing—you'll feel that the singer is right there behind you. In fact if the singer were there you'd be getting no more. For, as the Edison tone tests, in which the artist sings in direct comparison with the instrument, have proved hundreds of times, it is impossible to distinguish between the artist and The New Edison.

Drop into our store tomorrow and try this experiment. You'll be amazed at the realism of the experience.

OBSERVE STARS IN DAYTIME

If One is Sufficiently Interested They Can Be Seen From Bottom of Well.

Not only have the astronomers devised a means whereby they may observe the stars in the daytime, but anyone may, if he choose, see them at such time if he will go to the trouble to do so. At the bottom of a deep well an observer on looking up will see the stars if the sky is clear and the sun does not happen to be shining directly into the well.

Why cannot the stars be seen from the surface of the ground in the daytime? They certainly give forth their usual amount of light, and it will be remembered that the moon is frequently seen during the day.

The question resolves itself into the capacity of the human eye. During the day the sun shines on particles suspended in the atmosphere itself, and its rays are reflected in every direction from the different particles. We thus have diffused light by means of which one can see objects not directly in the sunlight.

If it were not for this diffusion of light, or irregular refraction, as it is called we could not possibly see anything not in the direct sunlight. Now, these rays irregularly reflected enter the eye in enormous numbers, so the intensity is comparatively great with starlight.

But to a person in a deep well or mine shaft only the perpendicularly reflected rays enter the eye, and from only those particles directly over the mouth of the shaft. Thus comparatively little light enters the eye, and any starlight that comes down at that time is easily perceived and the presence of the star is recognized.

One's identity. There is, in sanest hours, a consciousness, a thought that rises, independent, lifted out of all else, calm, like the stars, shining eternal. This is the thought of identity—yours for you, whoever you are, as mine for me—Walt Whitman.

WOMEN WILL SELL WAR STAMPS SOON

Plan to Make Drive in June to Help Government.

OHIO TO BE KEPT IN LEAD

Ohio Womanhood Takes Up Gauntlet For Baby Bonds and Promises Ohio War Savings Committee to Raise Millions of Dollars—House-to-house Canvass to Be Made—Counties All Organized for Work.

Columbus, O. (Special).—Ohio women will turn War Savings Stamps salesmen during June to help the Ohio War Savings Committee keep Ohio the leading stamp state in the nation. Under Dorothy Mae Burrell, director of the women's division, a state-wide woman's organization has been formed with a chairman in each county. The county chairmen in turn are perfecting their organizations to be ready for the starting gun June 1.

A house-to-house canvass is planned in the rural sections of Ohio and in the cities the usual form of card solicitation will be followed. Many county organizations are planning to complete their drives in one week's time, while others will take longer.

At War Savings Stamp headquarters it is believed that the coming drive will be the largest ever handled by women in Ohio. Many women who took active part in the work of various war-time agencies have volunteered their services for the War Savings Stamp drive. It has been impossible to reach all such workers, and those missed are asked to report to the county chairman of the women's division of the War Savings organizations.

It is expected that the women will secure pledges for at least $10,000,000 in War Savings Stamps, although no definite quota has been fixed.

Truth About Burns.

A remarkable little book by Mr. William Will, president of the London Burns club, based on the recent discovery of a manuscript volume of the minutes of the Dumfries volunteers, has knocked some calumnies about Burns on the head. "Robert Burns as a Volunteer," the book referred to, by Sir Ian Hamilton, shows that in Dumfries in 1795 Burns, so far from being socially an outcast or habitually drunk, mixed with the most influential citizens in the volunteers, served on the committee, and was never once fined for nonattendance at drills or any other offense, though fines were freely and sternly enforced on both officers and men.

Violet Highly Prized.

The violet was the national flower of the Athenians, and the men of Athens were frequently addressed by their orators as "Athenians crowned in violets." The Romans believed the flower had medicinal qualities, and Pliny advised a garland of violets about the forehead would cure headache or dizziness.

Division Operator of B. & O. so Sure of Results From This Stomach Treatment He Recommends To Friends.
This well-known railroad man says: "I have every reason to believe that a few years ago Dr. Parker's Treatment for indigestion and constipation saved my life." He goes on to tell of the tortures he suffered, how miserable and run-down he became, of his visits to specialists and health resorts, how a friend advised this treatment, of the quick and permanent relief it gave him. Finally he says: "I have recommended Dr. Parker's Treatment thousands of times and never knew it to fail."

WOMEN WELCOMED INTO COUNCILS OF REPUBLICAN PARTY BY HAYS

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Women are entitled to participate in the affairs of the Republican party on full equality with men, Republican National Chairman Will H. Hays declared at a notable gathering here today of prominent women, including wives of republican senators and representatives, held under the auspices of the Republican National Women's Executive.
Following the speedy passage of the national woman suffrage amendment yesterday in the Republican-controlled house, the declaration of Hays—the helmsman of the Republican party, was construed as another indication that the cause of votes for women would also triumph soon in the Republican dominated senate.
Between offering assurances to American women that the Republican party welcomed them as "units in the party membership" and being engaged in smoothing out the differences between the progressives and old-guard republican senators over the choice of Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, as chairman of the senate finance committee, the Republican national chairman was kept on the jump as he kept in close touch with the capital on one hand and the women's gathering on the other.
The women were assembled at a Washington hotel remote from the capitol, but that did not prevent the quick moving Republican national Wolsey's Disinfectant.

Whenever Cardinal Wolsey granted an audience to the people, or whenever he went anywhere where he was apt to have to mingle with a crowd, he carried an orange that had been especially prepared for him by removing the pulp and putting a sponge soaked with disinfectant and sweet smelling spices inside it.

Thoreau's Vision.
If the moon looks larger here than in Europe, probably the sun looks larger also. If the heavens of America appear infinitely higher and the stars brighter, I trust that these facts are symbolical of the height to which the philosophy and poetry and religion of her inhabitants may one day soar.—Thoreau.

Wood in Demand.
The unique timber of Turkey and a few other localities—the fine, hard-grained, compact boxwood so much prized for engravings, rules, etc., is now so scarce that the forest products laboratory in Wisconsin is seeking American substitutes. Only the Florida boxwood and the whoo of Arkansas and other parts of the South approach nearly. Other hardwoods suitable for some of the coarser uses include maple, torchwood, witch hazel, great rhododendron, mountain laurel, thornapple and yellow buckeye.

Valuable Trees.
The beech, which is found in the temperate zone in Europe, America and Asia, is valuable in medicine for the creosote distilled from its tar. Creosote, creosote carbonate and guaiacol are medicines used to supplement the hygienic measures which have done so much to reduce the death rate in sufferers from pulmonary tuberculosis.

Notice For Parole
Notice is hereby given that Harry Wombold, a prisoner now confined in the Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, Ohio, is entitled under the law and rules governing paroles from said institution to recommendation to the Board of Clemency, by the Superintendent and chaplain as worthy of consideration for parole. Said application will be for hearing on and after June 10th, 1919.

chairman from flashing from one to the other in his automobile. He turned up at the headquarters of the Republican national committee bright and early. He soon got in touch with Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the senate majority leader. He conferred with other Republican senators. When he was not talking to them face to face he was conversing with them over the telephone. He appeared to be "on the job" in a dozen different places at the same time.

In his address to what was described as a "conference of Republican women party workers," Hays said that the "women are not to be given secondary consideration, but that full consideration due all other individuals in the Republican party; they will not be distinctively organized, but amalgamated."

One of the leaders at the gathering was Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the Illinois senator, and daughter of the late Mark Hanna, one time Republican boss. Mrs. McCormick will preside at a banquet tonight which is to be addressed by Hays, Senator Cummins, President protem of the senate, Speaker Gillett, of the house, and other Republican leaders.

In announcing to the assembled women that their sex "would be given full equality of consideration," by the Republican party, Hays said also that the Republican women of the country "are a part of the party membership."

Our Foolish Philosophy.
Cheer up. Why worry? Most anything you do will make somebody glad. If you get sick somebody who don't like you will be pleased about it. If you get well somebody who likes you will feel mighty happy about it. If you die the undertaker is entitled to congratulate—er—that is to say, we all have our little moments.—Indianapolis Star.

URGES A CLOSER RELATION BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR

Cleveland, O., May 22.—Urging that capital and labor come into closer cooperation, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, in an address before the annual convention of the National Gas Association of America reminded them that the public should always be taken into consideration in such dealings.

"Labor is entitled to its fair share," the secretary said, "and when it comes to deal with capital over the conference table, I would remind both that the state or public is figuratively sitting at one end of the table for it has a vital interest in the negotiations and must be treated fairly."

Secretary Lane declared that this government had prospered through a system which rewarded individual initiative and that he therefore favored individual rather than governmental action in American business.

The gas men were congratulated by Secretary Lane for their efforts to supply the government with hallow, non-explosive and non-inflammable gas needed to inflate American war balloons. Before the war it was produced only at prohibitive prices but through wartime discoveries it was possible to produce it at prices more moderate.

The gas men will close their convention this afternoon.

BUSINESS MEN TO DISCUSS NEW RATES

A meeting of all business men of Xenia, whether members of the Business Club or not, is called for 9:30 o'clock Friday morning at the Business Club rooms for the purpose of discussing the proposed new telephone rates for Xenia. It is hoped that every business man in Xenia will be present so that all may arrive at a clear understanding of the situation to the end that intelligent action may be taken for or against the proposed increase in rates.

Matthew Arnold's Praise of Bible.
Matthew Arnold, a great critic, was anything but orthodox. "As well," said he, "imagine a man with a sense for sculpture not cultivating it by the help of the remains of Greek art, and a man with a sense of poetry not cultivating it by the help of Homer and Shakespeare, as a man with a sense for conduct not cultivating it by the help of the Bible."

VIM AND VIGOR
FULLY RESTORED

Grateful Man Tells How Half a Bottle of Nerv-Worth Made Him Over.

Almost every day a new Nerv-Worth endorsement made over the user's own signature! No wonder the sales of this famous family tonic increase and multiply. Here's a recent contribution to Nerv-Worth fame made to Springfield's Nerv-Worth druggist:

The Troupe Drug Co.—
For five years I have been so nervous I could not sleep. Stomach bowels and digestion in bad shape. Badly constipated and had to take physic every night.

I purchased one bottle of Nerv-Worth from you and took only about half of it and am glad to say I am a well and vigorous man again. No more nervousness. Sleep soundly at night long. Stomach and digestion in good condition and I require no more physic. I would not be without Nerv-Worth for ten times what it cost.

M. C. HIRSCH,

PRINCE OF WALES
WILL BE THE GUEST OF AMERICAN NATION

London, May 22.—The Prince of Wales will be the guest of the American nation when he visits the United States, it was learned today. The youthful heir to the British throne is keenly interested in America and will not confine his trip to New York and Washington, but will visit a number of cities.

The prince has endeared himself to the Americans by his democratic demeanor and when he visited headquarters of the American army of occupation on the Rhine he enjoyed dances with a number of American Red Cross nurses.

Since the armistice was signed the prince has been in the public eyes a great deal. He attended the London Sporting club for the first time recently and enjoyed a rattling good bout.

Later he went for a flight in an airplane and has now taken up aviation seriously. He is being taught to fly by Lieutenant Coryon, who was special instructor in the British air corps during the war.

The prince is fond of lively company and enjoys the latest dances and the music that accompanies them.

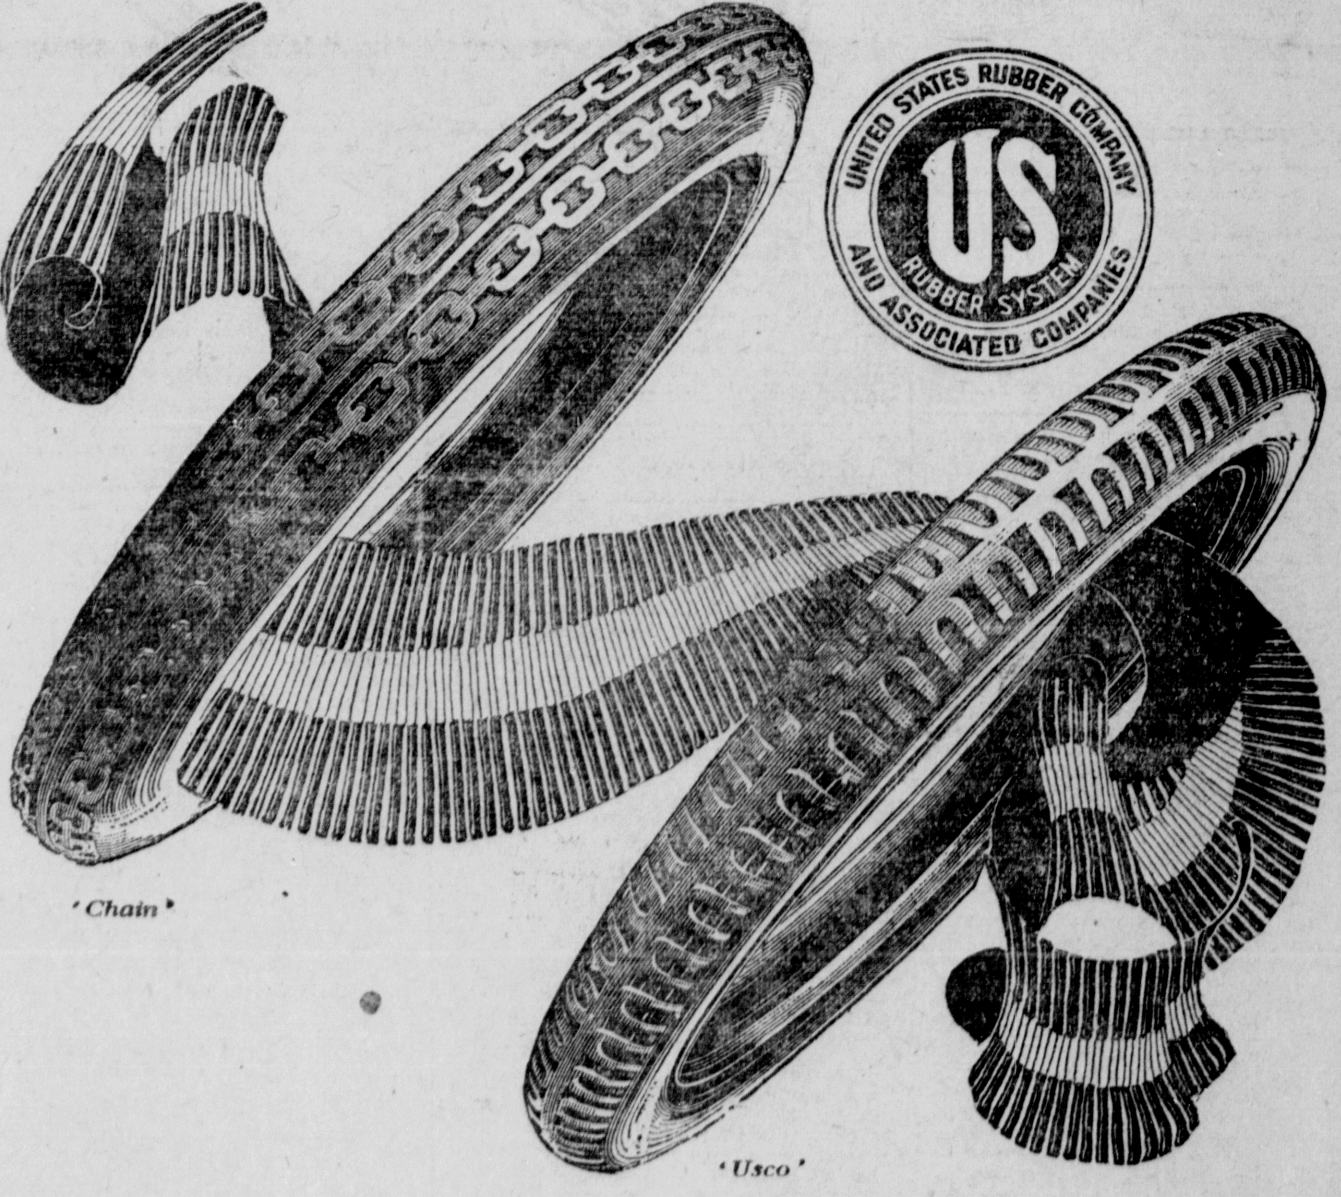

The Sayings of Shimbone.
"Ah done heard Brudder Jones prayin' 'las' night to be delivered from his 'unsettlin' sins,'" remarked Shimbone, "an' Ah reckon he mus' hab referred to de sin of 'toxication.'"—Boston Transcript.

Are You Held Back in Life's Race For Success in Business Because You Are Thin, Weak, Nervous and Run-down?

Thousands of Thin Weak Folks Will Naturally Benefit!
How Medical Science is Successfully Combatting Dangerous Lack of Strength and Tissue-Building Substances in Modern Foodstuffs With Vigor-Producing Systoxem and Plain Drinking Water!
The method followed by those who are thin, weak, delicate, nervous and run-down. Druggists in many cities have been besieged with orders for Systoxem and doctors are now urged to prescribe it in their daily practice. But not being a secret remedy, anyone may obtain it in convenient 5-grain tablet form at good drug stores, without a doctor's prescription. Containing as it does substances that help the blood and system change the foods we eat into solid, sturdy flesh, vital energy and endurance, thousands of thin delicate run-down people who have doctored along for years will naturally benefit.

The method followed by those who know its value is to take two regular 5-grain Systoxem tablets with a glass of ordinary drinking water three times a day until satisfactory results are obtained. Many weigh themselves and test their strength in some simple way before taking and do so again in two or three weeks' time just to see the weight and strength they have gained. If you are thin, weak, nervous or run-down, you owe it to yourself to make this test.
Owing, however, to the flesh-building substances in Systoxem, it should not be taken by stout folks who do not wish to add more healthy weight.
NOTE—Sayre & Hemphill, H. C. Sohn, and other druggists of this city report tremendous increases in the sale of Systoxem since it has become known that this compound and ordinary drinking water helps the blood turn the food we eat into solid, healthy tissue and also induces a feeling of renewed energy, strength and endurance.

Arthur Schantz was a recent visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Schantz, after several months' service in France.

Members of the graduating class, together with their teachers and their families, were entertained at the home of Thomas Trehearne, Friday evening. The decorations were carried out in the class colors, green and white. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games. Miss Marietta Coy and Mr. Sayrs won the first prize, a hand-painted plate. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and homemade candy, in green and white, were served.

Sergeant Lester Stewart of the Quartermasters' Corps is at home after 11 months' service.

Joe Trubee is building a two-story addition to Fred Smart's house.

Friends of Mr. Frank Wagner, Sr., will be glad to learn that he is recovering from a very serious operation for the removal of gall stones.

The play, "Back to the Farm," presented by the graduating class of Beaver Creek High School, Wednesday evening was much enjoyed by all present, each and every one of the characters being perfectly played. Much credit is due the pupils and their teachers for their splendid rendition of the parts assigned them.

Miss Thelma Barth and Thomas Trehearne, who tied on highest average in the class, each received a four-year scholarship, the former at Cedarville College, the latter at Wilmington College. Other members of the class were Clifford Williamson, Marietta Coy, Pearl Engle, Raymond Tobias, Callie Jenkins and Mildred Willett.

Mrs. Rue Snyder of Columbus, was the recent guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Williamson, and attended commencement exercises, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Fred Baier and daughter, Kathryn of Columbus, are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sellers.

Fred Henderson of Dayton, who arrived home from two years' service overseas, was a recent visitor at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Sam Moore.

Mrs. Vernon Ewing (Mayme Armstrong) and daughter, Janice, visited her mother, Mrs. O. D. Tobias, and attended commencement exercises.

"Dew" and "Jew."

The origin for the "J" sound, is of evil, that is of German descent, and probably comes from a tendency in that language to substitute "J" for "D." It arises from a sort of constructional or constitutional weakness, which slides the dental tongue sound, which implies effort, into a softer or more slovenly, lower sound. My correspondent will find the pronunciation quite commonly used in uneducated of the country. For parts of Great Britain, where the "J" sound is still prevalent, the tendency among the indolent and uneducated classes, to drop into soft labial sounds is easily but upon consideration not surprising. It is a survival, and not a good one, to be classed, I am afraid, among faults.—Montreal Herald.

HENRY L. FARRELL WRITES FEATURE STORY ABOUT THE SALVATION ARMY

In connection with the Salvation Army $13,000,000 Home Service fund Campaign which opened Monday, the following article taken from the Columbus Citizen, written by Henry L. Farrell, Xenian, and formerly on the staff of the Gazette and Republican, will be interesting:

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.

The Angel of Mercy works under cover.

It's hard to get "closures" on the hands that minister to the "down and outers" and the "also rans" of life.

For those hands work in the shadows and don't advertise.

Mrs. Harry Purdom, wife of Captain Purdom of the Salvation Army, couldn't tell me very much about the work.

"I could show you much better than I could tell it," she said. She was getting ready to make a round of her flock and said she would be glad to have me accompany her.

A basket of food had to be prepared. While she was busy at this, a bent, gray haired old man, struggling with an armful of books and papers, entered the room. He had a clear eye and a healthy glow in his cheeks. But on his face were traced tell tale lines.

"What are you doing here?" I asked, more as a casual remark than an attempt to get personal.

"Oh, I have been here three years, I'm the janitor," he answered.

"You must like your job," I ventured.

"Like it? I wouldn't give it up. I'm lucky to have a job. A man 65 years old can't do much work. Funny thing, too, a song got me in here when I was about gone," he said.

Then he told me his story.

"Booze got me down. I was a policeman, but lost out and was whipped. I heard a little girl singing on the street corner with the Salvation Army and it made me think of better days. I followed them out to their hall. They put me on my feet and I'm still here."

The basket was to go out to Water street for an Indian woman, 88 years of age. Her home was one of the many homes where they live from hand to mouth—clean, but almost bare—a few chairs, a bed and a small stove.

"I live in one room. I'm not able to get around very much," she said. She used a cane to hobble around.

She was born in Columbus, she said, in a cabin on the site where the Desher Hotel now stands. Her husband died years ago, leaving a son to support her. She hasn't seen or heard from him in the last eight years.

"All I can do is a little sewing," she said. "The Salvation Army brings me food every week. I'd have to go to the poor house if they didn't help me."

Enroute to another call on the south side, Mrs. Purdom stopped in front of a neat little home.

"Wait just a minute," she said. "I must go in and see Olie's baby." Olie came to America and became very homesick. He had no acquaintances, could talk very little and never could get a listener except a bartender. Bucking this game put the skids under him and he went down. He was found at State and High streets by the Army workers. He was weeks rounding into shape at the Industrial Home. They found him a job, he straightened out, married, and has two children.

"Of course, we don't have to help them any more, I just dropped in to be friendly," Mrs. Purdom explained. A family ravaged by the flu was next on the list.

The disease had the father, mother and three children down at the same time. They were destitute and badly in need of nourishment. Food and medical attention were secured for them by the Army workers. But it was too late for the father. He died and his family barely pulled through.

Their home bears marks of the battle to keep the wolf from the door. Four beds were in one room. Two of them occupied by the children who are still suffering from the effects. The Salvation Army is keeping the cupboard filled.

On the way back, Mrs. Purdom stopped in a downtown department store, ostensibly for the purpose of making a small purchase.

A young girl, of the thin, dark type of beauty, behind the counter, seemed to know her. They talked of common place things, during which the girl remarked: "I'm getting along just fine. Everything is high, but I'm safe to live right."

Afterward Mrs. Purdom told of running across her when she was about to be sent to prison for indiscretions.

She had no home, and all she needed was some one to take hold of her and treat her like a mother would," said Mrs. Purdom.

Mrs. Purdom was sorry that she hadn't time to take me all around. She was afraid I hadn't seen very much.

"We have hundreds of cases just like each one you saw, and the percentage of cures is enough to compensate us for our time and trouble," she said. "We haven't enough money to do as much good as we would like to do, but we get help to some, and prove that our slogan, is right, 'A man may be down, but he's never out.'"

Afghan Origin.

Afghan historians date their people's beginnings to King Saul and refer to them as Children of Israel, a theory that may have gained popular acceptance because of the Afghan's Semitic appearance, but it is not generally credited by ethnologists. Afghan literature is rich in poetry, mostly war epics and love lyrics. All but the mountain kafirs are Mohammedan, and they cling to a pagan belief in which are blended faint suggestions of old mythologies and ancient refuges.—National Geographic Society.

AMAZING RECORD OF BRITISH AIR FORCE IS NOW MADE PUBLIC

London, May 22.—An amazing record of the work of the British air force during the war has just been issued by the air ministry.

It contains some astounding facts and figures, the most noteworthy being that, during the last ten months of the war British airplane factories turned out 26,685 machines.

English airmen between July, 1915, and the armistice on November 11, 1918, destroyed or shot down over 7,500 aircraft, dropped nearly 7,000 tons of bombs, flew nearly 900,000 hours—nearly 103 years—and fired 10,500,000 rounds of cartridges.

During the first ten months of the war the airplane output was only 530.

Bombs weighing 20 pounds were dropped in 1914, but at the end of the war aerial torpedoes weighing 3,000 pounds were in daily use.

Marvelous development took place in the photographic reconnaissance branch of the Royal Air Force, which at the commencement of the war consisted of only two officers and three men. Their outfit consisted of two cameras and a portable box of developing chemicals. On the 11th of last November the photographic personnel was 250 officers and 3,000 men.

Up to September, 1918, over 5,250,000 prints of aerial photographs, which proved of inestimable value during the great offensive had been issued by the air service in the field.

San Cura Ointment Relieves Pain, Draws Out Poison and Heals Promptly.

There is no better remedy for burns, cuts and bruises than the antiseptic and healing ointment called San Cura. Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example, it is guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill's to relieve itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles and pimples, or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out the poison, and leave them in such a thoroughly aseptic condition that they will heal promptly.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today, and keep it ready for an accident or emergency that may happen. 30c, 60c and $1.20 a jar at Sayre & Hemphill's on the money back plan.

SPRINGFIELD WHITE SOX TO PLAY HERE

Because inclement weather conditions interfered with the scheduled battle between the Xenia Reserves and the Springfield White Sox a week ago last Sunday, Manager Foley has booked the Home City outfit, who will play on the local lot next Sunday.

The Springfield lads have a strong combination and the local management is hoping that they will be able to put up a much better game than has been played here recently. Unfortunately, much touted teams that have appeared on the local lot, have fallen from their pedestals after an encounter with the locals and the management is now making an effort to secure an aggregation that will at least give the locals a battle. The White Sox appear now to be the best bet as a team that will give real opposition to the Reserves and they are coming with the intention of breaking the winning streak that has camped with the locals so far this season.

NOW WE MAY KNOW BOSWELL

Description of Biographer, Written by Himself, Reveals Him as Very Human.

How pleasant it is to know that Boswell, who we have always thought was merely a kind of animated notebook, was a droll, vain, bibulous, warm-hearted creature, a good deal of a Peppy, in fact, says Collier's Weekly. A. Edward Newton's entertaining "Anecdotes of Book Collecting," a volume of essays which shows that a business man can write better literature than a hundred professors muddled into one, makes Boswell very human. How jolly to hear that Boswell wrote press notices about himself! Here is one of his own blurbs, which we quote from Mr. Newton's book:

"Boswell, the author, is a most excellent man; he is of an ancient family in the west of Scotland, upon which he values himself not a little. At his nativity there appeared omens of his future greatness. His parts are bright, and his education has been good. He has traveled in post chaises miles without number. He is fond of seeing much of the world. He eats of every good dish, especially apple pie. He drinks old hock. He has a very fine temper. He is somewhat of a humorist and a little tinged with pride. He has a good, manly countenance, and he owns himself to be amorous. He has infinite vivacity, yet is observed at times to have a melancholy cast. He is rather fat than lean, rather short than tall, rather young than old. His shoes are neatly made, and he never wears spectacles."

This brings the excellent Boswell very very close to us indeed; he might almost be a member of the Authors' league. Especially apple pie, bless his heart.

La-may Face Powder Is Harmless to the Most Delicate Skin

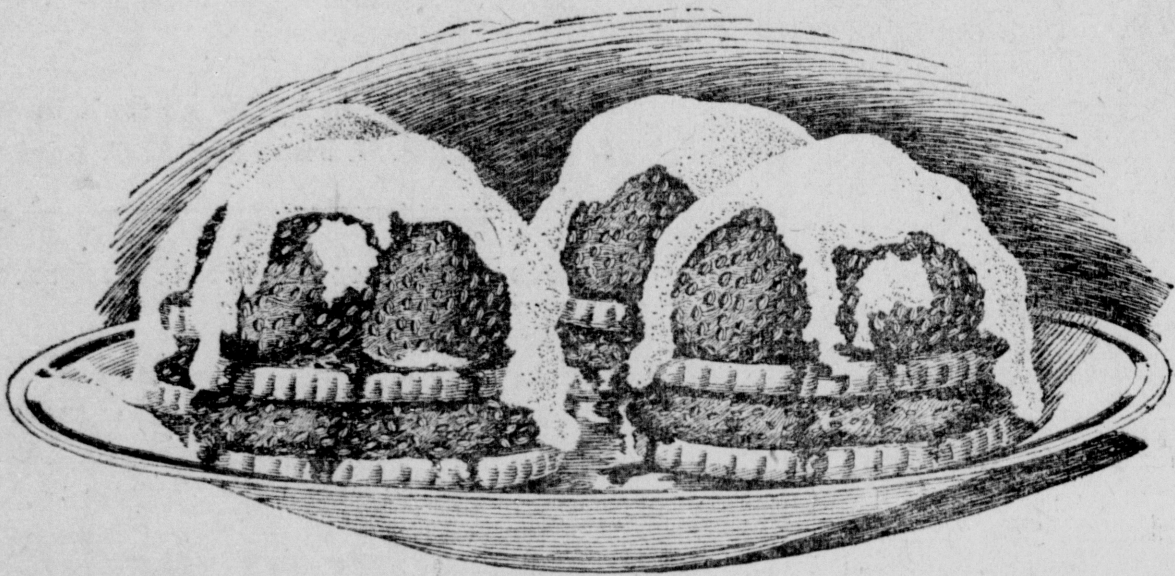

Now you can use a pure face powder that is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. It will not cause enlarged pores, blackheads and irritations. And, it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or starch or rice powder (Poudre de Riz) to make it stick. White lead poisons the skin and rice powder turns into a gluey paste that encourages enlarged pores, blackheads and pimples. The improved powder uses a medicinal ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and pimples. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crows' feet and wrinkles. Because it is pure and because it stays on so well this La-may powder

(French Poudre L'Ame) is now used by over a million American women. The large size is only fifty cents and the trial size is twenty-five cents. Remember, La-may is guaranteed absolutely pure. Five thousand dollars reward is offered any chemist who finds it contains any white lead or rice powder. Refuse substitutes. Your common sense will tell you that when you are offered a substitute it is sure to be a demonstration trying to sell an inferior powder that pays a big commission. When you use this absolutely pure La-may and see how splendidly it beautifies your complexion you will understand why it so quickly became the most popular beauty powder sold in New York. Save this notice. La-may Rouge is also pure.

BUILDINGS BEING ERECTED

Art, Medical and Educational Exhibits at the Celebration at Columbus to Be Held June 20 to July 13, Will Reveal the Progress of Christianity the World Over—All Nations Will Mingle at Exposition Grounds.

The visitor who comes to the Methodist Centenary celebration at Columbus, June 20 to July 13, will find himself transplanted to a large park of more than 100 acres, which has cost the state of Ohio millions of dollars to develop, with an immense oval in front of which is an amphitheater seating 50,000 people, the Coliseum with a seating capacity of 8,000, and eight exhibit buildings with a floor space of 200,000 square feet scattered over these exposition grounds.

The exhibits will come from every part of the world. Settings built under personal direction of men who have just returned from the countries represented are now in construction. Later, natives will begin to arrive, bringing their strange customs, costumes and industries. A true picture of the lives of these people is the aim of the directors of the Centenary.

A miniature Ganges river actually flowing through the India building is the center of queer heathen religious customs. Here will be found the Hindu temple, Mohammedan mosque and sacred monkey temple, filled with chattering monkeys. Here, too, the sacred pigeons will be fed every day, amid much ceremony, and a fakir on his bed of spikes proves to less stolid observers that his soul is above the trivial sufferings of this world.

An Indian bazaar, overflowing with silks, wrought metals, idols and flower shops, occupies a large part of the India building. Public letter writer, sweetmeat seller, teeth-cleaner, beggars and curio seller mingle with the crowds of sightseers.

Indian village scenes and an Indian marriage procession, with the bridegroom riding an elephant, are included in the plans of Dr. Lewis E. Hinzell of India, who is in Columbus to direct this building for the Centenary.

In an immense Kaffir kraal, containing five full sized huts and a cattle enclosure, 60 Ethiopians will be found working at various typical industries, as a part of the African exhibit. The desert life of northern Africa, with Bedouin tents and Moorish town, is pictured in another section of the African building. This exhibit is directed by J. T. C. Blackmore of Algeria, who is also directing a reproduction of early Roman civilization in the same building.

Another part of the African building is devoted to Roosevelt and Rainey motion pictures, episodes from the life of Dr. David Livingstone, lion hunts and Kaffir dances, the Uganda railway and African mission scenes. Other sections of Africa are fully represented in the large building which is under the direction of Dr. E. H. Richards of Oberlin.

The high gray walls of a Kwang city confront the visitor at the entrance to the Chinese building. At the left is a farm scene; inside the walls are the principal exhibits, including a large Chinese restaurant, open to the public; curio shop, money exchange, Confucian temple, typical Chinese houses, and a Methodist church such as is found in the Celestial republic.

Art, medical and educational exhibits revealing the progress of Christianity in that country form a part of the plans of Dr. John M. Gowdy of Fuchau, who with Y. C. Yong of the Chinese Legation in Washington is directing the building.

Devastated France and Belgium are realistically reproduced in the European section, under the direction of Dr. E. M. Tipton, who has recently returned from abroad. The reproduction of a ruined French cathedral which seats 500 people will be used for lectures and pictures. Through the shell-shattered walls are seen the plains of Lombardy and ravaged Belgium.

Separate sections dealing with Russia, Scandinavia and the Balkans occupy a large share of the European building. Dr. G. B. Winton, Dr. W. M. Teeter and S. A. Neblett are in charge of South American, Cuban and Mexican sections.

A Japanese garden, with wishing bridge, lily pond, pergola and pavilion, is being built for the Japan building by a Japanese expert gardener. A gold mining scene and the famous Hiroshima Hindergarten will also be reproduced in this section. Dr. E. R. Bull, formerly of Tokyo, is in charge of the Japan building. Exhibits from Korea under Dr. W. H. Cram of Nashville, Tenn.; from the Philippines under Dr. Harry Farmer of New York, and from Malaysia under Dr. J. R. Denyes of Pittsburgh, will be held in the same building.

Two large administration buildings are devoted to scenes and exhibits from every corner of North America, under the direction of Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer of New York. Alaskan and Pueblo Indians, mountaineers, New York shopkeepers and California Japs will be found working at their various industries, and living in widely contrasting environments. A typical southern plantation scene and a Mexican village will be picturesque features of the building. The purpose of these exhibits is to emphasize the work of the church in the diversified sections of United States and Canada.

A machinery hall, containing 40,000 feet, will be filled with photographs, charts, books and miscellaneous exhibits from all countries represented in the exposition.

"WITH ALLENBY IN PALESTINE"

Sacred Views Also to Be Shown at Methodist Celebration.

Photographs by Lowell Thomas, Famous Lecturer and Writer, Offers Rare Opportunity to Witness Military Operations at Celebration at Columbus, June 20 to July 13.

Would you like to fly from Cairo to Jerusalem?

Would you like to hover over the pyramids and cross, in a few minutes, the country over which the Israelites wandered for 40 years?

Would you like to stand in the cave of Machpelah, before the tombs of Abraham, of Isaac, of Jacob, of Rebecca, of Rachel, where only three Christians have ever stood?

Would you like to go "nose-diving" over Bethlehem at the rate of 150 miles an hour?

Would you like to see Allenby's soldiers capture Jerusalem and Jericho and Christian sentries guarding the Mount of Olives and the Garden of Gethsemane?

The opportunity to do all these will be presented at the Methodist

LOWELL THOMAS.

Lecturer and Writer Who Will Tell of His Wonderful Adventures in the Holy Land With the English Army Under General Allenby.

Centenary celebration at Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13, in the Lowell Thomas travelogue, "With Allenby in Palestine." For, in this talk, illustrated by amazing moving pictures and still photographs, the first authentic eye-witness account by a fully accredited observer of this dashing campaign will be given.

They show the great military operation from its beginning to its end, when the Turk had been driven out of the Holy Land and Allenby stood astride the Berlin-Bagdad railroad at Aleppo, ending the Mittel Europa scheme of the Kaiser and the pan-Germans forever.

But they show more than that. They show all the sacred places of which Christians have heard since their childhood. They show how the places look today and how the people of Palestine are actually living. They show almost everything that one would care to see or know of Palestine—certainly more than any ordinary traveler could see in half a dozen visits to that country.

These travelogues have obtained the unanimous indorsement of the clergy of New York city. They will appear at Columbus during the entire time of the great Methodist celebration.

HAVE ODD CAMPING PLACE.

How would you enjoy living in the horse exhibit building at the exposition grounds, chaperoned by hideous Chinese idols by Kali, the Goddess of Murder, and numerous other deities more powerful than they are beautiful? That is what a dozen young women from New York and New Jersey are doing at Columbus, O., where the Methodist Centenary celebration will be held June 20 to July 13.

"Don't think for a moment that we are not having a fine time," said one of the young women. "Our quarters upstairs are quite cozy. We even have a piano, and it is like a vacation for us to be camping out here. Besides the work of classifying and arranging all these wonderful foreign exhibits is fascinating."

enemies Worth Having.

"He hasn't an enemy in the world," often is a declaration of honor, but sometimes it is anything but a compliment. To live an upright life, true to one's convictions, is a matter of extreme difficulty unless one gains a few salutary foes in so living. There are too many people who do not like the high ideals which the upright man puts into practice. They use their influence, by ridicule, by scorn, and by their own example, to lower the standard set by their neighbor. But exalted purposes are meant to be lived up to, faithfully, unflinchingly, even at the risk of being subjected to ridicule, or of making enemies. No higher tribute is there than this: "He has no enemies in the world—except those offended by his devotion to his high ideals."

STRONGER MEN TAKE THE LEAD

They Have Nerves of Iron and Real Red Fighting Blood

Vital force is the material from which leaders in all walks of life are made, it is well worth getting and holding.

The health and nerve of the athlete is what Nature intended every man and woman to have.

The blood of an athlete is pure and red, a strong heart pumps and drives it through his body. No wonder that every inch of his system is filled with energy and health, his nerves like iron, spirits high, hard tasks a pleasure and life one song of joy.

A leading Doctor says, "Everyone should feel this way. That if you are not red blooded, are nervous, all run down and on your last legs, for you to build up your blood and nerves with exercise, fresh air, nourishing food and Nature's great prescription, Phosphated Iron, a real blood and nerve builder."

He also says, "Phosphated Iron feeds the blood cells with iron and nerve force, and that leading specialists are now using it successfully all over the country, that it is one of the few remedies that better class doctors can now depend on to produce results."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

Sympathetic Electricity.
There are certain facts which have to be accepted, because they do exist, and among these is the fact thus set down in Ganot's Physics (ed. 1881). "When a glass rod, or a stick of sealing wax, or shellac, is held in the hand, and is rubbed with a piece of flannel or with the skin of a cat, the parts rubbed will be found to have the property of attracting light bodies, such as pieces of silk, wool, feathers, paper, bran, gold leaf, etc." That is to say, the rod or wax becomes electrified by rubbing it with the skin of a cat. You generate electric sparks in the fur of your black cat by friction. The possibility has been known for centuries. Why the fur of the cat rather than the fur of a rabbit or dog is not known.

Entomologist's First Duty.
When a new pest to any crop is brought to the attention of the economic entomologist and a remedy is asked, he must first know just what this insect is. He must know the group to which it belongs, the habits of this group, the exact classification of this individual species. It may be that it will prove to be a perfectly new species, in which case it must be accurately described and properly placed, so that other workers will know about it and about its relationships and its possibilities for harm.
